REPORT ON
INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY (ICT)
ODD & EVEN SEMESTER 2023-24

The Department of Political Science is making use of Information and Technology for the various purposes. Students are explained about the benefits of using ICT inside and outside the class room. The following works are basically performed by the faculties through ICT to communicate the students.

1. Study Materials: Study materials are shared by the faculties to the students through Whatsapp group which helps students to read and study as per their convenience.
2. Notice: All the notice pertaining to Examination, Internal Test, Result, and other important information relating to the students are informed through the respective whatsapp group.
3. Using of Projector inside the class room: Projectors enable teachers to create power point presentation or highly Organised notes for the class. With the use of projectors in the class room, students can take better notes with the ability to discern information the teacher displays. Students can also ask the teacher to repeat the slides if they missed the slides.
4. Online Course Quiz: The department of Political Science also conducts online quiz from time to time on the completed course to know exactly how much students have understood the course. It helps the faculties to know and evaluate the students' performance in the class.
5. Online Feedback on Syllabus & Curricular: The department of Political Science takes online feedback on syllabus and curricular from the students which is analyzed and remedial measures are taken based on the feedback.
