Analysis

The analysis on Teacher's feedback showed that most of the teachers in the institution agreed that the aims and objectives of the module are well defined; curriculum and syllabus are well organized according to the need of the program. Also it includes regional program. Further, 70.4% of the teachers agreed that there is effective distribution of the curriculum by the institution and the specified contact hours stated in the syllabus is sufficient to complete the syllabus in time. 25.9% strongly agreed that the books prescribed/listed as reference materials are relevant, updated and appropriate to the syllabus of the affiliating university. Further, 88% of the teachers agreed that the module is relevant in terms of its usefulness to pursue future research and in terms of employability.

In view of the implementation of the NEP 2020, 63% of the teachers agreed that the institution is prepared to provide more holistic and multidisciplinary education although, 48.1% of the teachers strongly agreed that it imposes several challenges to teachers. However, overall 33.3% of the teachers strongly agree that they have a positive perception towards the implantation of NEP 2020.

Action Taken

1. Teachers are encouraged to attend various programs organized by the HRDC-UGC to enrich and update their knowledge on their respective areas.
2. In view of the implementation of the NEP 2020, teachers were encouraged and allowed to attend various programs to have a clear knowledge on its implementation in the undergraduate courses.
3. Teachers are encouraged to use ICT skills to enhance and extend student's learning areas.
